

JINKS DAY--JOY DAY AT GLENDALE UNION HIGH

High Carnival Being Held on Campus and in Girls' New Gymnasium—Staid Instructors Unbend; Behave
Like Boys and Girls—Fantastic Costumes

Today is Jinks Day and that means Carnival Day at Glendale High. Instructors who are staid and serious at other times are going about in strange garbs, some of them sucking huge sticks of striped candy. Every sort of a fantastic combination is to be seen upon the persons of students. When asked what they are supposed to represent many frankly say they do not know, that they just "dressed up." The baby dress for both boys and girls, cunning starched jumpers and single piece slips prove their popularity by their numbers. There is a great influx of farmers, and no small collection of hobos, but none were discovered by the reporter who admitted a desire to be catalogued as bolshevik. There were Spanish gentlemen in red velvet and gold lace and charming señoritas, some of them with maids in attendance as is proper for great ladies. There were pirates who had to bring out double-edged knives to prove their characters, doctors, clergymen, gypsies, Turkish ladies and pashas, prison wardens, soldiers, sailors, harlequins, outlaws, nurses, little boys and little girls, and as before remarked, ragged, patched, nondescript costumes of every conceivable kind.

It was of course impossible to catalogue them all. Business Manager Irving Oliver and Assistant Principal Ferguson were in tuxedos, Coach Hayhurst in full dress, Mrs. Dora Gibson, head of the musical department, in the uniform of a nurse and expecting her services would be needed before the day was out. Miss Aileen Renison, as an old-fashioned, old maid schoolmarm, Miss Dorothy Poppy, in gay, panpered Colonial dress, Miss Myrtle Pulliam as old-fashioned debutante, Miss Jane Snyder as little girl, Prof. Alfred Cookman as doctor of science and fellow of the royal society, Miss Iva Huntley as Spanish señorita, Miss Irene Mueller as Somoac Ari Club, draped with tarlatan scarfs in primary and secondary colors, red, orange, mauve, green, yellow, blue; J. R. Baker, clergyman, Paul E. Webb as gentleman in full dress but a rather shabby, Dick Swivelier, gentleman.

The student list included: Hilda Foote in white costume stamped with the maps of the world; James Smith in knickers made from sacks of the Globe flour mills; Helen Engle in rather tawdry bridal attire with mosquito net veil; Evert Smits as "the spooner," in black velvet costume ornamented with fringes of silver spoons; Salvador Felix as "Zorah"; Vivian Thomas as Spanish lady, with Irene and Mildred Whitaker as attending maids; Eleanor Sawyer, as a Cuban girl; Lucile Allen, as Italian flower girl; Beatrice Bacon, gypsy; Alice Pratt, Turkish lady; Warren Meeker as hobo of the civil war in honest to goodness shoes of that period which he borrowed for the occasion; Harold Betz, butler; David Riskin, outlaw; Arthur Boyce, negro; Gordon Mapes, Spanish gentleman in red velvet suit; Sam Thompson as a warden; Harold Parcher as a pirate; Frances Morgan, personating Joy; Bruce Kurtz, clown; Irene Whitney, India girl; Marian Gray, old-fashioned girl; Dean Culberson farmer; Tamson Johnson, gypsy girl; Florence McLaughlin, gypsy; Paul Holland as "constable" and country judge; Walter Kohn, Spanish gentleman; Myra Johns and Beulah Warren as harlequins in orange and black; Jack Clark as country doctor; Harry Crawford as hobo who needs a barber; Floyd Kenan as Peck's Boy; Willard Goertz, sailor; Stephen Fairchild, his complexion stained a ruddy brown, in quite a Satanic get up as Lucifer;

LOT, MRS. LOT AND DAUGHTERS OF LOT

Evangelist Brown Describes Their Start for the Promised Land in Company With Abraham and Their Perishing in Sodom—Abraham the Rockefeller of His Day

The audience at the big tabernacle on Harvard and Orange last night was as large as the one which filled it to overflowing Sunday evening and proved the increasing interest in the services. Songs by the choir, led by Otis Ironmonger, and songs in which the great congregation joined made a harmonious atmosphere preliminary to the address of the evening, which was a bubble of fun as well as a serious message delivered in characteristic style by Evangelist John Brown. A special feature of the musical program was a piano solo by Mr. Clark.

As announced the night before, "Judge Lot and his family" was the theme of the preacher. He stated that his text would be found in Genesis XIII, but frankly admitted it might not be again referred to in the course of his discourse. He described the trek made by Abraham and all his household, including his nephew Lot, and Mrs. Lot, to the promised land. He dwelt on the halt made on the borders of this country which had been promised them, saying: "What for? Don't ask me, I don't know. There was no reason on earth for their halting there unless they got the notion it was too good to be true. Lots of people today show the same strain of hesitation about a perfectly secure thing. They start out for the promised land gaily and when in full sight they pitch their tents and buzz around for years because they are afraid God is going to ask them too much for the property. They join some church that is on the line, not over it, and stick there, afraid to go across and ashamed to go back."

"Abraham was the John Rockefeller of his day. He was rich and Lot was in on it all. As usual, money made trouble between the help of the two men and Abraham told Lot it was best for them to dissolve partnership, but he would let him take his choice of land. Lot promptly said that the direction of Sodom pleased him. Abraham advised against it and said: 'Now, nephew, I don't mean to horn in on your decision but those people are Godless reprobates with no regard for decency.' Well, I'm not going clear down there," Lot replied, "just going in that direction."

So Lot broke loose from his religious, narrow, puritanical uncle, broke loose from family prayers and started for Sodom or vicinity. Alone? Oh, dear me, no. Mrs. Lot was headed for Sodom too, with a radiant smile. For years she had reveled in the Sunday society page of the "Sodom Daily Whirl." She dreamed of herself in the title role of the society dame. Was that all? Dear me, no. Lot's daughters were headed for Sodom, too. Father was leading, mother was leading, and the children did the logical thing.

"There is a tragedy for you to ponder over, father and mother. You cannot head towards sin and Sodom without leading your children. Are you willing to take the lead and the responsibility for such a journey?"

"It's easier to get into Sodom than to get out. Bursting out of hell is hot business. We are apt to think our special sins are something new. Lot had 'em all and whatever you are cultivating in your life is just a rehash of the same old stuff. God beat it out of Lot, Cain, Jezebel, and will beat it out of you in time."

"It has become quite fashionable for some people to smile at the principles of the church and say they do not intend to become doormats. Well, nobody ever wiped their feet on Abraham. The biggest outstanding figures of the world are the ones who are camping away from Sodom and heading for the promised land.

"You remember how even Abraham hesitated on the edge of his inheritance. That is just what the Lots are doing today. God called them to go to the promised land but they found it meant giving up sin, indulgences, old associations, so they camped out just inside the border of the land of promise and have been there ever since."

The preacher then reviewed the social progress of the Lots and the visit of remonstrance which Abraham paid his nephew, who listened courteously but said: "Uncle Abraham, to be frank with you, I do not look at these things in the light I once did. I see things from a different angle."

"He was right, too," continued the preacher. "Mix with the devil for a while and you will change your views. No man or woman can mix with the church and the world."

"There is a great deal said today about the broadminded way. God's injunction was to keep your eye on the straight and narrow way."

"Lot lived in Sodom 20 years and at the end of that time it was so rotten God said nothing but fire could fumigate it right. Even when he promised to spare it if ten righteous could be found they could not be located. Lot lost everything, political power, property, all of his life's work, his only gain being the ridance of his wife, daughters and sons-in-law. God's way is never in the direction of Sodom."

Girls' Meeting

Yesterday afternoon girls of the High school had a conference with Mrs. Neth, a get-together meeting, which she told them of a rally supper which is to take place at the Christian church Tuesday night which she wishes every girl to attend, bringing as many other girls as each one can induce to come, and then later be present at the tabernacle, where special seats will be reserved for them.

Mrs. Neth is all sweetness and light, is a lover of girls and has the faculty of making them love her. Underneath her sympathy and understanding is strength of character and the firmness that a leader must have. She made a very favorable impression in her informal talk and will probably have all of them her devoted slaves before the meeting conclude. After the arrangements had been explained she gave them a very practical little talk from the text: "Whatever thy hand findeth to do, do it with all thy might."

Morning Session

At the morning session the evangelist's talk concerned Jesus' words to his disciples: "Come with me and I will make you fishers of men," and his last words on the Mount of Ascension: "Ye shall be embued with the Holy Ghost and with power and shall be my witnesses."

1500 KNIGHTS TEMPLAR DOWN AT LONG BEACH

Glendale Commandery Represented by Seventy Members and Their Ladies—Most Brilliant Event Ever
Staged in Long Beach—Competitive Drill

Resplendent in their gorgeous uniforms, 1500 Knights Templar from all parts of California took possession of Long Beach yesterday morning, when the Grand Commandery of the State of California opened its two-day convention there.

A special train of 14 coaches brought commanderies from the northern part of the state—San Francisco, Oakland, San Jose and other points.

Perhaps the most brilliant procession ever staged at Long Beach was witnessed yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock when 1500 Knights Templar, hailing from every city and town of the state, and many from the foreign clads in their dazzling and magnificent uniforms, paraded through the downtown streets to martial music. Vast throngs greeted the superbly uniformed knights along the line of march, and round after round of applause from the spectators bespoke their admiration.

A competitive drill and a band concert in the auditorium were features of last evening's program. The drill team of Oakland No. 11, was the winner of the trophy, making 969 points out of 1000. San Francisco No. 41 was awarded second prize.

In the band concert Oakland commandery band made 55 per cent, Los Angeles commandery band won the trophy, making 95 per cent. This victory has particular interest for Glendale in that J. J. Burke, 124 South Maryland street, is a member of the Los Angeles commandery band.

It is indeed a great victory, for the winning band numbers 33 members, its nearest competitor, the Oakland band, had 65 members, moreover, the Oakland band contained seven outside musicians who are professionals, while the Los Angeles band is composed entirely of commandery members.

Long Beach commandery was host last evening to visiting Knights Templar and their ladies at a grand ball in the auditorium, and Golden West commandery No. 43 entertained members of the winning band and the commandery to which they belong, with a banquet at the Hotel Virginia.

Glendale knights and their ladies to the number of 70 were in attendance at the various business sessions and social affairs in Long Beach yesterday.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB'S SHOW PLEASES

Three Playlets Successfully Given Last Evening by Drama
Section—Mrs. Chase Presented With Basket of Flowers—Proceeds to Be Used for Clubhouse

Glendale is proud of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, and with reason. "This no idle boast to say they are 500 of the most capable, most talented women to be found anywhere in the United States, which is the home of the best type of women in the world."

Women of the Tuesday Afternoon Club can write plays and stories and magazine articles; they have among their number musicians who are artists and students of drama, social questions and literary lore; whose opinion on subjects carry weight; and, lest some mere man who is old-fashioned say frowningly comment on the above that "woman's place is in the home," hasten to add that women of the Tuesday Afternoon Club can also get up a really wholesome, well-balanced luncheon for 35 cents a plate and make money at it!

That they can produce plays that make professionals look to their laurels was proven once more last evening when the drama section delighted a large audience at the Palace Grand with three one-act plays.

"Fourteen," a society satire, was admirably portrayed, with Mrs. Charles H. Temple interpreting an aspiring, ambitious member of New York's "Four Hundred" in a manner that gave no room for any criticism but that which is commendatory; with Mrs. L. G. Sherman as Elaina, the modest, debutante daughter, altogether charming in her part, and with Harry Clinton Wilcox, a most correct and proper butler.

The humor, pathos and wit of Zona Gale's "Neighbors" was brought out in the most perfect manner by Mrs. A. M. Hunt, who was "grandma" to the life; Mrs. J. W. Feinstein, who as Mrs. Diantha Abel, "who does things," was inimitable; Harry Clinton Wilcox, "so busy his hands sag," who was a perfect replica of the man described by the quoted words above; Mrs. J. Roger Bentley, who as Diantha's dainty appealing young daughter, Inez, won the hearts of the whole audience as well as that of her bashful suitor Peter, in which part Robert White, Jr., couldn't have been surpassed by Charlie Ray himself; Mrs. W. F. Nash, who, as Miss Elmira Moran, full of the importance of her aches and pains, was so true to type the audience got ready to laugh every time she got ready to open her lips to speak; Mrs. Walter N. Stamps who as Mrs. Trot, was a capital impersonation of the kindly woman willing to sidetrack her worry about the "buffalo bugs" getting into her curtains when a neighbor's need called her; and last, but not least, Mrs. Harry Clinton Wilcox, of whom the delineation on the program, "with a sweetness that changes all," was absolutely true.

"Hello, Central!" was indeed a hilarious comedy. Mrs. Max Green as the operator certainly gave "some service"; R. L. Galvin as Rufus, "in search of his razor," gave a capital impersonation of a funny dandy; Max Green as Tillie's sweetheart and Mrs. Roy L. Kent as Tillie, Max's sweetheart had their troubles with the operator as did also Abe Kabbille, the lawyer (Fred Abbey), and his wealthy widow client, Mrs. Steiner (Mrs. E. A. Bode), every one of whom deserves praise for his fine character delineation. Abe Kabbille simply brought down the house, and so did the sourette, trying to telephone the booking office—a part in which Mrs. W. L. Andrews was simply inimitable.

As a mark of appreciation for her untiring efforts in directing the plays, Mrs. R. E. Chase, curator of the drama section, was called before the curtain and presented with a beautiful basket of flowers.

LEXINGTON DRIVE IMPROVEMENT

Like Treatment for Doran
West of Glendale Avenue is Recommended

In a communication addressed to the board of city trustees and presented Thursday night by City Manager Watson, relative to requests from E. R. Olin and others as to when that portion of Lexington drive lying immediately west of Glendale avenue is to be improved, he commented on the dusty, unsatisfactory condition of the street, especially in summer. He said: "It would seem entirely proper for the owners of property abutting on that portion of Lexington drive to pave it at least in the manner that the other portion of the street has been paved."

"I would therefore respectfully recommend that proceedings be taken for the improvement of that portion of Lexington drive west of Glendale avenue that is now unimproved; improve to include grading, three-inch macadam roadway, curbs and sidewalks."

"I believe it might be well also to consider in this connection proceedings for the improvement of Doran street immediately west of Glendale avenue. There is about two blocks of the street unimproved and it carries a large amount of traffic from Glendale avenue to the section between Lexington drive and the wash. This street is the only outlet to Glendale avenue for that section, and inasmuch as that portion of the city is growing very rapidly at the present time, I believe your board would be justified in ordering those two blocks of Doran street improved in the same manner as is suggested for the improvement of Lexington drive."

ALL-DAY MEETING OF ST. MARK'S GUILD

St. Mark's Guild held its regular all-day meeting yesterday at the parish hall.

Sewing for the bazaar was the work of the morning hours and a business meeting was held in the afternoon. A picnic luncheon was served at noon. About 30 ladies were in attendance.

STEERING WHEEL STOLEN

While C. E. McPeck's car was standing in front of the Elks' Club house last night someone stole the steering wheel off of it. Autoists better watch out, or some of them will lose a radiator, so bold are thieves becoming.

PETITION FOR MORE WATER ON DORAN

City Manager Recommends
Remedy Which Voters
Indorsed at Election

To relieve the situation complained of in a petition presented to the board of trustees Thursday evening, for relief from inadequate water supply on East Doran street, where the distribution mains, like those on Dryden and Campbell streets, are of but two-inch capacity, City Manager Watson recommended that the board follow the policy outlined in proposition No. 2, which voters indorsed at the last election, and instruct complainants: "to petition your board to take the necessary legal proceedings for the laying of a four-inch cast iron distribution main on Dryden and Campbell streets with the understanding that a six-inch main will be laid on Dryden street and that the difference between the cost of a four-inch service main and a six-inch distribution main will be paid for by a bond issue."

"The total frontage within the city limits affected would be 3189 feet. The petition before you represents 1630 feet, which is more than a majority. It is not probable that the petitioners had in mind proceedings as suggested, however, I do not see any other way of financing the cost of new water mains for this or any other section within the city. Our present budget contains no appropriation for water mains. This, however, has been discussed quite thoroughly before and possibly needs no detailed statement at the present time."

NEEDLEWORK SOCIETY PLEASANT MEETING

The Mary Olive Needlework Society, whose motto is "There is a little good in the bad little girl, and a little bad in the good little girl and it doesn't become any little girl to criticize any other little girl," met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. D. Hall, 134 North Belmont street.

All members were present and one new member was added to the list. Mrs. M. C. Jackson of Burbank will be absent for several months visiting her daughter in the Yosemite valley. Mrs. W. G. Burkhardt of San Diego was a guest of the society.

Needle work and conversation whiled away the pleasant afternoon, at whose close dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

MORE RECRUITS FOR NATIONAL GUARD

Four Men Sworn in Thursday
Evening at Drill on High School Grounds

Enthusiasm for Glendale's company of National Guards which has been mounting steadily almost reached the maximum Thursday evening. Nearly all members responded to roll call and the drill was excellent.

Announcement was made of the arrival of equipment furnished by the government for a company of full strength, viz., 93 men. It included two sets of uniforms, cotton for summer wear and wool for winter wear to woolen gloves, jumpers, wool overcoats, rain coats, shoes, flannel shirts, bugles, hats, barrack bags, 19 blankets, musette bags for personal belongings, bed sacks, shelter halves, 14 large pyramidal tents, 6 officers' tents, and a large tarpaulin.

Four recruits were sworn in which brings the company enrollment to about 70. There is still room for 20 additional and at the rate men are applying the roster will soon be full. Two weeks hence or May 5, the company will again entertain its friends with a program somewhat similar to the last one, which struck the popular fancy.

One hundred lockers have been purchased for the headquarters of the company above the Los Angeles Trust and Savings Branch bank on Brand boulevard. They are practically completed except the stairway and will soon be ready for use.

LUNCHEON FOR MRS. JOHN CREACH

Mrs. M. C. Patterson and her daughter, Mrs. G. J. Lyons, entertained with a charmingly appointed luncheon yesterday at the home of the former, 363 Riverside drive.

The guest of honor for the smart affair being Mrs. John Creach of Kentucky, sister of Mrs. P. O. Lucas, who has been wintering in Southern California.

The table decorations were a huge bowl of pink rose buds and lovely ferns.

Covers were laid for Mrs. A. S. Chase, Mrs. S. C. Parker, Mrs. P. O. Lucas, Mrs. J. Creach, Mrs. W. H. Farlander, Mrs. J. J. Fraser, Mrs. Robert Yost, Mrs. M. Russell and, of course, the two hostesses.

Mrs. Yost gave a number of lovely vocal selections which were very much enjoyed by all present.

MANY BICYCLES STOLEN

Two more bicycles have been stolen, making six in the last week, most of them from the Intermediate school. Frank Herald and Russell Pace were the victims yesterday. Chief Lampert thinks an organized gang is working at this sort of thieving as he gets similar reports from other cities. He urges every owner of a bicycle to lock it when he has to leave it in a public place for any length of time.

HERE IN GLENDALE

M. E. Plasterer of 409 North Kenwood, a resident of Glendale for the past ten years, but who has always been employed in Los Angeles, has resigned his position and now will be associated with J. W. Pearson, realty dealer, as a salesman.

C. E. Neale of the Neale & Gregg Hardware company has purchased a large lot on North Central avenue near Mountain street and expects to begin the erection of a beautiful home at an early date. The sale was made by Mr. Baird of the Kent Realty company.

Green & McClellan, and Bartlett & French, automobile dealers, have opened a salesroom on South San Fernando road near the intersection of Riverdale drive, for the sale of used cars. San Fernando road is getting to be one of the busiest sections in Glendale.

In his report on bids to furnish the city of Glendale with motor truck and equipment, which were referred to the city manager at the last meeting of the city trustees, Mr. Watson recommended the acceptance of the bid of Packer & White Auto company to furnish a new two-ton Moreland truck, model 20-B, with steel body as per blue print specifications, for $3450, including war tax.

NOVELTY TEA AT BRUNSWICK SHOPPE

"One of the social treats of the week was given Thursday afternoon at the new show room of the Artistic Brunswick Shoppe, 126 South Brand. The hostess and host of the affair were Miss Gertrude Van Vleck and John T. Jenkins.

The musical program consisted of a pre-hearing of the May Brunswick Records, each number being preceded by a short resume of the artist's life. This added greatly to the interest in the selection, being entertaining as well as educational.

Such artists as Godowski, Max Rosen, Archer Chamber, Virginia Rhea, Richard Bonelli and several high-classed dance orchestras gladly gave of their art in making the affair a huge success.

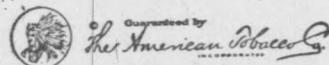

Refreshments from a daintily attired tea table were served during the program. The pleasure derived by the guests from hearing the records several days before their release to the public has prompted the Brunswick Shoppe to plan another tea each month.

FARMERETTES HOE CORN AND 'TATERS

The C. & C. section (Cole and Creel), of the Ladies' Aid of the Christian church are farmerettes today. The ladies have been busy all morning hoeing corn and "taters" on the vacant lot they engaged to raise a crop on to aid in the church building campaign. They are hoping for a bumper crop and they will get it if faithful work counts for anything.

CITY MUST SERVE WATER OUTSIDE

City Attorney Gives Opinion on Trustees' Resolution of February 24

One of the important matters that came before the board of city trustees at its meeting Thursday night was the opinion of City Attorney Hartley Shaw relative to the effect of a resolution passed by the board February 21, 1921, relative to the service of water and electricity to consumers outside the city limits, the essential part of the resolution and the attorney's opinion following:

"That hereafter no extensions of the water or electric systems of the city of Glendale shall be made in territory outside of the city limits of Glendale or for the purpose of supplying consumers situated outside of the city limits and that hereafter no consumers situated outside of the city of Glendale shall be supplied by said city with water or electricity except in cases where said city has already assumed a legal obligation therefor."

The exception in this resolution was inserted because the board did not desire to repudiate any of its legal obligations, and your desire now is to know just how far your legal obligations go. The supreme court has considered this matter in two cases, entitled: Fellows vs. City of Los Angeles, 151 Cal. 52-58, and South Pasadena vs. Pasadena Land, etc., Company, 152 Cal. 579-588. By these and other cases upon the subject the rule has been established that where a city purchases a water plant it takes that plant with all burdens as to territory and consumers entitled to be supplied therefrom that have been imposed upon it by the former owner of the system. These cases also establish the rule that where water has been appropriated or dedicated to the use of the public in a certain particular territory then all persons within that territory are entitled to be supplied with such water by whomsoever may be in control thereof. In the present case the city of Glendale is the owner of certain water pipes outside of the city which were acquired by purchase from water companies which were supplying water in that territory. I have no doubt that the acts of the companies in question amounted to an appropriation or dedication of water owned by them to the use of persons whose property is along the line of pipes now owned by the city and that all such persons are entitled to be connected with the city pipes on paying the properly established charges therefor.

While the cases on the subject have related to waterworks, I have no doubt that the same principles would be applicable and the same rule established as to the supply of electricity and that, therefore, the city would be under obligations to supply such electricity to persons residing along its electric lines.

AMAZONS OF KANSAS

(By International News Service)
KANSAS CITY Mo., April 22.—Look out, Philadelphia!

Kansas City will soon win away your title as the "Sleeping Village." They've just arrested three girls here who stayed up late at night.

The girls—Anna Chins, 19; Emma Chins, 22, and Jean Gordon, 20—were charged with annoying neighbors by staying up late at night, burning lights and laughing. The girls blamed the late hours on Miss Gordon's insomnia.

The Chins sisters were also charged with vagrancy, until they explained an income of $700 a month from their father's estate.

The Spanish government suspended wheat purchases recently on account of the over-supply of the Spanish market. However this act will not interfere with individual purchases.

BILL HAYWARD ESCAPES TO RUSSIA

(By International News Service)
CHICAGO, April 22.—"Big Bill" Haywood, leader of the I. W. W., who was presumed to have entered the federal prison at Fort Leavenworth yesterday to complete the serving of a 20-year prison sentence, has escaped from the federal authorities and is now in Moscow, Russia, according to word received here today by United States District Attorney Charles F. Cline.

Haywood, according to District Attorney Cline's information, sailed on the steamship King Oscar and landed at Riga. It is believed by the district attorney's office that a number of the 60 Industrial Workers of the World, who were to have begun their various sentences simultaneously with their leader, have escaped with him.

Haywood was last heard of in New York, when on March 30 his attorney communicated with him at the Simple Liberty's Society in West Thirtieth street, New York. When the supreme court upheld the I. W. W. convictions a few days ago another effort was made to communicate with Haywood without success. An effort is being made today to obtain an exact check of the I. W. W. who were supposed to have reported at Leavenworth, Kan., yesterday. An immediate report from federal prison authorities has been requested.

ARMY OFFICERS FRIGHTENED HIM

(By International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—"Every time I saw an army officer I thought it was curtains. Every time there was a knock at the door I thought the jig was up. Gimme a pass to Alcazar Island, Lieutenant, I can't stand it any longer."

Then Walter Jean, army deserter, explained his plight to Lieutenant H. B. Marr when he walked into the office of the commanding general, ninth army corps area, recently.

Jean was courtmartialled 15 months ago at Camp Eustace, Va., and sentenced to serve a year in military prison.

During that period he had fled across the continent.

When he appeared at army headquarters and asked for a pass to Alcazar Island, the local military prison, he was told by Lieutenant Marr that it was impossible for such a pass to be issued. He then explained why he wished to go there.

Lieutenant Marr then issued the necessary pass and he went to the island without guard.

NOT "KIDNAPPED" BUT WERE WILLING

(By International News Service)
KANSAS CITY, Kan., April 22.—"Sure we were not kidnaped, but we were willing to be," admitted Mildred Hardinger, 18, today, one of the "stolen" girls who kept the police of this city and Kansas City, Mo., on a frantic search of two days before they were found late yesterday. Margot Hobbs, 17, the other "stolen girl" also admitted it was all a frame-up in which Mildred was the master mind.

The two girls arranged with James Curtin, 19, and Edward Harrison, 19, to hold them up and kidnap them on Monday night. Mildred had asked Edward Myers and George Brown to take them automobile riding on that night and had them stop the car at a prearranged spot.

Curtin and Harrison then stepped out and held up the car. They ordered Myers and Brown out of the machine, took their overcoats and money and drove away with the girls in Myers' car. But the adventure the party had planned proved to be a fizzle. They rode aimlessly around the country most of the time and finally exhausted from the cold and exposure crawled into a strawstack Tuesday night on the outskirts of the city. Disheveled, dirty and half starved, they were finally rounded up late yesterday.

All four are being held up by the police and the two youths implicated in the case will probably face charges of robbery and theft.

BIRTHDAY DINNER FOR G. H. McLEAN

G. H. McLean of the Triangle block, South Glendale, knows now that his friends at Alhambra, where he formerly resided, have not forgotten him. He had a birthday this week, though he isn't telling the exact date for folks to remember, and he was thinking that no one was going to remind him of "fleeing time" when a knock came at the door. The "old bunch" at Alhambra had not forgotten and were there en masse to wish him the greetings of the day. They came laden with the birthday dinner, including the cake and all the other good things that are supposed to make birthdays a success and surprise parties particularly. The little table was discarded and a larger one substituted and the feast spread.

It surely was a joyous, happy dinner, this reunion of old friends and neighbors, the memory of which will last through the years to come for Mr. and Mrs. McLean.

PRESS CHAIRMEN REPRESENT CLUBS

One hundred and seventy clubs were represented by their press chairmen or presidents or both, at the annual press luncheon of the Los Angeles District Federation of Women's Clubs held in the dining-room of Hotel Avis in Pomona yesterday.

Roses and butterflies featured the decorations on the tables and Mrs. J. H. Morford, district chairman of press, presided.

Mrs. Henry Sheets, president Pomona Ebell, greeted the 150 guests present in the name of Pomona. A telegram purporting to come from the lonesome husbands of delegates created great hilarity.

Pearl Rall, of the Los Angeles Express, recited an amusing parody on "The Lost Chord." Myra Nye, of the Los Angeles Times, contributed clever original jingles to the entertainment program; Mrs. Lufborough, of the Examiner, gave "Four Don'ts for Press Chairmen."

A (bogus) wire for Pearl Rall admonished her to fear not the blue laws, but to send in a good story to the Express. An "interview" granted by Mrs. Sidney Thomas Exley to Mrs. McClintock, press chairman of the Wednesday Morning Club, created much amusement, as did a telegram from the Times' sports editor to Myra Nye.

Mrs. Kerwin, of the Elysian Heights, P. T. A., reported a meeting. Mrs. McClintock created a cartoon before the guests very eyes; a telephonic "interview" by Mrs. McClintock and Mrs. Gardner was likewise amusing.

Miss Eva Daniels, press chairman of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, was a guest of the enjoyable affair.

ENGINE EXPLODES; KILLS THREE MEN

(By International News Service)
NEW YORK, April 22.—Three men were instantly killed and another seriously injured today when a Lehigh Valley locomotive blew up near the town of Victor. The engine that exploded was one of two locomotives that were drawing an eastbound freight train. The dead men were practically blown to pieces.

FATHER OF SEVEN KILLED BY AUTO

(By International News Service)
SEATTLE, April 22.—Police are searching here today for the driver of an automobile who ran down and killed John H. Graves, father of seven children, the youngest of which is two weeks old. After striking Graves and his stepdaughter, Lila Porter, who was rendered unconscious, the car sped on.

Don't let Mother know this secret

May 8th is the day to surprise her with this Brunswick

Your Mother has heard, no doubt, of the Mothers' Day Club, but she has no idea whether you are one of the members. But a great many Mothers are wondering.

We don't intend to give the secret away here. A good many sons and daughters now belong to the Mothers' Day Club and are preparing to give their Mothers a big surprise.

Mothers' Day Club is a Brunswick idea, a happy conception, and one you'll be delighted with, once you come in and learn the details.

Model 112

It all centers around a surprise for Mother and an easy way for you to give her that surprise.

It includes numerous features aside from presenting her with a wonderful Brunswick No. 112 and a special collection of Records.

To take part in the advantages of Mothers' Day Club, the first step is to come in and ascertain the details—the secrets we can't publish. As the time is short, we suggest an early visit.

CRYING NEEDS FOR DENTISTS

(By International News Service)

WENNIPEG, Man., April 22.—Who will be the first odontological pioneer to carry the gospel of enamel crowns, gold fillings and false teeth to the Eskimos of the far north? Fortune master by her teeth. Love's dream is his shingle from an igloo and accept pay in furs and walrus tusks, according to a representative of the Canadian Pacific railway recently returned from the Mackenzie river.

Chewing skins among a people who take their blubber raw and care nothing for the delicacies of the culinary art is the chief accomplishment of a wife. The wonderful furs the Eskimos wear are made soft and pliable by feminine teeth. An Eskimo girl may be a beauty, but she will go begging in the matrimonial market unless her jaws are equipped with sharp ivory. Roguish eyes, cherry-red lips and cheeks like roses in bloom are alluring only as the setting of sound molars. Romance is largely dental. Domestic bliss is measured by the wife's ability to chew pelts. She holds the affections of her lord and awaits the dentist who will swing over when her incisors are worn to the gums by masticating the tough hides of seal and walrus.

Eskimos have acquired many arts of the white men. They take their game with steel traps and rifles and have cultivated a connoisseurship in canned beans and plug tobacco. But they still treat an aching tooth with a hammer and chisel and the woman who has lost her grinders is a tragic ghost of forgotten usefulness. Civilization could confer no greater boon upon these contemporaries of the stone age than to send them good dentists. Crowned incisors would cure heartaches as well as toothaches and a set of false teeth would keep alive the flame of domestic happiness in many an igloo.

THE TALE OF AN IMMIGRANT PUP

(By International News Service)

WINDSOR, Mich., April 22.—What nationality is a dog whose parents are Irish terrier and German dachshund if that puppy is born in Boulogne? Whatever that nationality is, Mike is it. And Mike is also the new mascot of the Great War Veterans' Club. The dog, brought from France by Sergeant-Major Francis McKay, is a decided asset to the club.

He can do patrol duty, march on his hind legs, "right dress" and "about face." He will pick out any special pool ball from the pool table when ordered. He will play hide and seek, find hidden articles and generally make himself entertaining.

Men of the Veterans' Club swear by Mike.

MOTES AND BEAMS

(By International News Service)

CHICAGO, April 22.—A particle of dust in a woman's eye cost Gus Hoppe, of Racine, $50. Hoppe met Miss Esther Schreiber, and as he passed she winked. He followed her until she called a policeman. Miss Schreiber told the court she didn't mean to wink the way Gus thought she did, but that a mote of dust had lodged in her eye. The judge fined Gus fifty.

THREE MEN ARE GRANTED RESPITES

(By International News Service)

CHICAGO, April 21.—Sixty-two days more life today have been granted three men who were to have been hanged in the county jail here tomorrow. Governor Small reprieved until June 23, Harry Ward, Grover Redding and Oscar McGavick, in order that they might have time for an appeal to the supreme court.

Ward, known as the "lone wolf," was convicted of the murder of Thomas Graney, a street cleaner, and Frank Schwartz, cigar clerk, whom he shot during a holdup.

Redding and McGavick, both negroes, were leaders in a "back to Abyssinia" movement and were convicted of killing Robert L. Rose, a sailor, who protested the burning of an American flag during a parade of the "Abyssinians" on the south side.

After you know some people well you are apt to regret the politeness you wasted on them.

He who is wedded to art should have a model wife.

The "DE LUXE" Investment

AND INSURANCE FOR YOURSELF AND FAMILY

A CLARKADOTA FIG PLANTATION

At Stockton, California, where the United States Government reports climatic conditions ideal.

Did you read in the Sunday (March 6th) Times, Farm and Tractor Section, about "A Crop of Increasing Importance in California," illustrated?

WHY THE SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY?

Because of Climatic Conditions:—There they begin in the second year and produce three crops, the first crop in June. Here your trees begin producing the fourth year and produce one crop.

ILLUSTRATION

A. buys a 10-acre fig plantation for $6,000.00. We will take W. Sam Clark's figures as given in a sworn statement from his own garden of 34 trees to the acre—and we plant 64 for you:

2nd year, $20.00 — 3rd year $73.60 — 4th year, $125.00
5th year, $198.00 — 6th year, $445.40 — 7th year, $895.00
8th year, $1,100.00 — 9th year, $1,300.00 — 10th year, $1,500.00
Total for 10 years, $5,651.00 per acre; 10 acres, total, $56,510.00

B. invests $6,000.00 in city property, house and lot, and turns it every six months for ten years, making $1,000.00 net profit each time, and he has $20,000.00. Double this and you have only $40,000.00.

Note that we have not added the value of your plantation at the end of ten years to the above figures.

Because of the limited area (See U. S. Government report) where these figs can be grown to make them a big success commercially, fresh and canned, the supply will never equal the demand for many years to come.

Read what W. F. Kirkham and Mr. Brandige and others say in the "Fig and Olive Journal":

The actual amount of Clarkadota figs raised in California is only 288 tons, and W. Sam Clark received bona-fide orders last year for 2330 tons.

ONE ACRE SUPPORTS THE HOME AFTER FIVE YEARS

5 acres means a minimum income annually of not less than $2,500. In case of death of purchaser, after making initial payment, all cash payments cease and the Company matures the contract from the crops and deeds it to your heirs.

ONE MILLION DOLLARS worth of this land sold last year, and 33 per cent within a radius of 100 miles of Stockton.

WHAT LOS ANGELES INVESTORS SAY

P. L. Garvin says, after months of investigation: "I concluded a Clarkadota fig plantation the greatest protection and investment, on sane, safe lines, I ever saw or heard of."

Geo. W. Myers says: "Believing in the future of figs, and the Clarkadota variety especially, I had no hesitation in buying without seeing, with W. Sam Clark in charge."

Mrs. C. Mendelssohn says: "As to seeing the land to pick it out, it's the same all over. Best investment I have investigated—better than life insurance."

Chauncey Wetmore says: "Like getting money from home. You are at liberty to refer anyone to me."

THINK THIS OVER

Write me! Get our literature and read the whole story in "Clarkadota Fig Plantations" booklet, especially pages 12, 13, 14 and 15, by W. T. Kirkman of Pasadena in the "Fig and Olive Journal" of December, 1919, and John H. Oliver's letter, of Wilcox avenue, Hollywood.

LIVING IN A GROOVE

We all know that water seeks its level, and in the same way and with the same unvarying precision human beings drift toward a balance which is below mean.

That is the dead level of human effort.

When one has reached the dead level, one is in a rut, and the rut is the twilight zone of initiative—the halfway place where the lights and shadows of existence converge and mingle in a drab neutrality.

If you are in a groove you are dragging out an existence of spineless inertia; you are a victim of the monotony that will finally destroy you.

Since Nature has a way of adjusting herself to environment, you will come in time to take your lot as a matter of fact, and thenceforth you will not be conscious of the danger that lies across your path.

Monotony is the slow death to spontaneous effort.

The clock ticks on and you come to disregard it. When it suddenly stops you are awakened to an uncanny sense of the interruption.

The constant tapping on any part of the body presently ceases to disturb the nerves and they grow passive and irresponsible. Communication with the brain is broken off and you get no more messages of the sensation.

One's perceptions are dulled by constant application. The sun loses its attraction for one who has lived in its bright light for days.

Change and decay are antithetical. The body renews itself every seven years. The cells are constantly changing. Variety is the spice of life.

Accommodating oneself to one's environment is merely "getting used to things." It is Nature's way of making the best of a relatively bad situation; but it is not Nature's way of living an efficient life.

Life is a panorama and unless one keeps the picture moving, physical and moral and mental paralysis must inevitably result.

The human machine may go along seven days a week for a time, but eventually, like the defective engine, it will begin to "miss."

Rest and recreation are as essential to efficiency as food. When human beings are required to toil 12 hours a day and seven days a week they become automatons, and that is potential slavery.

HAS IT OCCURRED TO YOU?

A thoughtful and no doubt ever-busy housewife timidly suggests that while the country is considering Sunday observances and the "blue" laws, that some slight if not concerted consideration be given to the "lady with the ladle" in the home. The chorus of her song is "Abolish the Sunday dinner, be happier and thinner."

There is much more than merrymaking in what she has to say. There may be other women in other homes who will agree with her. If Sunday is a day of rest, why should the wife and mother spend most of the day in the kitchen, assembling a nicely roasted chicken with luscious brown gravy and wonderful stuffing—and potatoes mashed with milk and on it a hunk of butter softly collapsing in the white hollows—and a couple of vegetables, peas or corn, sweet and fresh from the can—a heaping dish of cottage cheese, oozing cream; some purple grape jelly, or apple sauce dusted with cinnamon; baking powder biscuit, brown on the outside and tender on the in; lemon meringue pie that would make the mouth of a wooden Indian water; and a beaker of coffee? It is all very nice, but why, why on Sunday?

Lots of women begin the day of rest by getting the children off to Sunday school before the breakfast dishes are washed. Shoes have to be shined, hands and faces washed, and after the change is found a last final effort is made to teach them the golden text. They are then shoed off to the place of worship with parting admonitions not to be late, "keep out of the mud" and "don't lose your money!" Then the mother is ready to go back to the kitchen or get herself ready for church.

But you can't baste a chicken and follow a sermon simultaneously. Nor can you lift an earnest voice in the hymns with the thought that the dishes are still stacked on the kitchen table. The husband may go in the front room and fall asleep in his chair, and wake up with a stiff neck, while the good woman, mother and wife, washes and wipes, and tells the children to "please be quiet—it's Sunday, you know, and father is asleep."

But, as the lady so aptly insinuates, "Abolish the Sunday dinner; be happier and thinner."

If a man wants to hang himself, he always finds a rope at his ankles.

BANDITS OBTAIN $25,000 IN CASH

(By International News Service)
CHICAGO, April 22.—Five armed automobile bandits today held up John S. Amberg, vice president, and Norton F. Stone, cashier of the Scheubert-Amberg state bank, and escaped with $25,000 in cash. Amberg and Stone were in an automobile conveying the cash to the Union Trust company, when the bandits halted their car, compelled the bank officials to enter the robbers' machine, drove them several miles from the scene of the robbery and then dumped them out. The money was mostly in $5 and $10 bills.

JOHN R. WACHTER'S FUNERAL SERVICES

Funeral services for John R. Wachter, who passed away on April 18, at the age of 64 years, will be held tomorrow (Friday) afternoon, at 2 o'clock, from his home, 612 North Central avenue. Dr. C. M. Crist, of the First Methodist church will officiate, assisted by Rev. E. O. Thayer. The deceased leaves a widow. They have been residents of Glendale for the past year, coming here from Tucson. The remains will be placed in a vault in Forest Lawn cemetery and taken later to Pittsburg, his old home for final interment.

REUNION OF TWO FORMER CHUMS

H. R. Sibley of South Brand boulevard says the workings of fate in real life are stranger than fiction. Years ago, when he was a boy living at Terre Haute, Ind., he and a youngster named Claymarkle decided to seek their fortunes in the west. Together they traveled through many states spending much time in Denver and the mines of Colorado, always following the path to greener fields further on. After several years they separated and Mr. Sibley came to Southern California and made his home in Glendale. Last evening Mr. Sibley was surprised to receive a call from his old friend that he had not seen for 30 years. Mr. Claymarkle who had been living a part of this time in the northern part of California came to Glendale to visit Thomas Long of Patterson avenue. Mrs. Long, who had read in the columns of the Press of a party just given by Mrs. Sibley was surprised to learn that her guest had been seeking Mr. Sibley for many years and the three hastened down to the Sibleys. It was a very delightful reunion to the two men who recalled old days that now seemed all happiness. For gotten were the hardships of pioneer life for with memory nothing holds but joy.

GLEANINGS FROM PUBLIC SERVICE

Fred Flack and wife moved from 101 North Cedar to 303 North Jackson, the home of Mrs. Flack's parents, having sold their property to Mrs. E. M. S. Labadie of 1111 East California, through the W. E. Mercer real estate agency. W. E. Trautwein and wife moved from 210 North Isabel to 118 North Cedar.

Houses approaching completion are those of H. L. Ogg on Sycamore canyon road and that of Mary Burgess at 1432 Rock Glen avenue.

PERMITS FOR FOUR HOUSES

Peter L. Ferry took out permits yesterday for four five-room houses, each to cost $2500, to be erected at 609, 613, 617 and 621 East Palmer avenue, just back of and adjoining his home place on Acacia avenue. These will be fine rental places, which are much needed in Glendale.

NEW GARAGE BUILDING

W. E. Mercer took out a permit this morning for a 30x10 hollow tile building to be erected on the rear of his lot at 301 South Glendale avenue, just below the oil station on the corner. It will be occupied by Leon Bachmann and his cousin as a repair garage.

Falling prices are drawing the tears out of profiteers.

CHAMPIONS NOT PLAYING TO FORM

By JACK VEIOCK
I. N. S. Sports Editor

NEW YORK, April 22.—The beginning of the second week of major league baseball today found conditions very much unsettled in both big leagues.

As usual, the weather has acted as a drawback. The Giants, Yankees and St. Louis Browns are the only teams that have lived up to pre-season predictions so far.

Indications are that the various clubs will not begin to settle down to their normal level for several weeks to come as pennant races of other years have consistently proved.

The 1920 pennant-winning Indians and Dodgers, for instance, are destined to swing into a much stronger pace than they have shown to date. The Cleveland team has not found its proper balance, but once Tris Speaker's pitchers settle down, the world champions will start climbing.

The Dodgers are reaping the effects of poor condition. Your Uncle Wilbert Robinson's pitchers are not in shape and the same goes for the other members of the team. But the Dodgers don't rank as a second division team.

LABOR-SOCIALIST CLUB BURNED

By EDWARD STRUTT
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

ROME, April 22.—Conflicts between Fascisti (Italian extreme conservatives) and communists are reported in increasing numbers from various parts of Italy. At Taranto two labor exchanges and a socialist club were burned after street battles. At Eova six communists and three Fascisti were killed when a lorry carrying Fascisti was attacked from ambush by communists. At Parma troops charged into a rioting mob with machine guns, killing two. At Tuscany, two were killed in a street battle today. Four were killed in that city yesterday. As a result of this growing wave of violence the socialist members of the chamber of deputies today notified Premier Gioelli that they will bring about complete abstention of socialist electors in the coming election if the government does not stop the alleged provocative tactics upon the Fascisti.

FIGHT SCENE TO BE ANNOUNCED LATER

(By International News Service)
JERSEY CITY, April 22.—Tex Rickard may not announce the exact scene of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight until after May 10 it was learned today. This was because of his desire to avoid dragging the fight into a political turmoil in connection with the city election on the aforementioned date. If the naming of the site is held up, the beginning of work on the arena also will be delayed, but Promoter Rickard is said to have received assurance from his contractors, that the structure can be put up in jig time.

An exchange defines the meanest man on earth as one who does not want children to have a good time.

MORE LIBERAL DIVORCE LAWS

Written by MARGERY REX for International News Service.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Is the uniform divorce law approaching?

Recent legal proceedings in several well-known families have made the need of a federal divorce law seem imperative.

The National League of Women Voters, now in convention in Cleveland, has recognized the necessity for such legislation. Part of the program of the convention includes discussion of the divorce problem and the adoption of resolutions to liberalize and simplify the laws surrounding it.

Mrs. James Lees Laidlaw, one of the New York members of the organization, announced today that not only divorce, but kindred subjects, pertaining to the protection of women and children, such as child labor laws, will be discussed at the convention.

"I thoroughly believe," she said, today, "in a program for liberalizing and unifying divorce laws."

"Part of our general plan for the codification of laws, and their unification, includes not only consideration of divorce laws, but those which affect children."

"This is a necessity now, as never before, in the United States. Every section of this country is closely bound by interconnections and our laws should be more uniform."

"Laws governing divorce should have dignity and humanity incorporated in them."

Miss Pugh Urges Changes

Further approval of the league's program was expressed by a young woman lawyer, Miss Lucille Pugh, who agrees that the present system of marriage and divorce is inadequate and unjust.

"I believe that marriage should be looked upon as a civil contract which can be dissolved or abrogated when conditions change and when it is proper and right to do so," she said.

"The happiness of two people is the one thing on which the state must depend for its existence."

"And that happiness should be guarded. It is the state's duty to protect it."

"By standing in the way of more liberal divorce laws the state is not doing its duty. It is cutting its own roots thereby."

"But I would not be too lax. Such grounds as cruelty are often interpreted too leniently. A woman may say it is cruel if her husband does not kiss her when he leaves for business in the morning."

"Such a reason for divorce, if ever made one of the grounds, should be carefully defined."

"Divorce should be granted when two people find it impossible to be a help to each other. That is the whole idea."

"The state should not make it an obligation on either party to the unhappy marriage to resort to collusion."

"How could the laws be unified? I think if a constitutional amendment could be passed, making the law uniform, but leaving the enforcement of it to the state, it would be very satisfactory. Then people wouldn't have to go to a federal court for a divorce, but to the state courts as usual. This would be a great protection to women and to children as well."

"I don't know how it would work out—if it would be easy to adjust or not. If not, then we ought to find some efficient way."

"One report, which may be incorrect, has it that the League of Women Voters would place two years as the period between marriage and divorce. This is too long. If people can't get along for two years it is a serious thing. I don't know whether that means that they want a woman to wait two years to get a divorce, or two years till she may re-marry after being divorced. In either case, it is too long."

Hard to Define Cruelty

"Many people, if cruelty were made a ground, would say that incompatibility should be synonymous. It's easy to say that, so many things represent cruelty."

"The point should be that if two can't honestly get along together the state that married them should give them relief."

"Women should have the custody of their children, I believe. That is woman's natural vocation anyway, the one she started out with."

"When a divorce is given to the father the child—if of tender years—is given to the mother. That is only right and just. Circumstances have so much to do with every case, though. If a woman is wholly bad the child is better away from her, no matter how young."

"Let us be honest and fair and have sensible legislation."

"Health certificates with marriage licenses are a good idea. We should make marriage hard to achieve. Now it's hard only to be divorced, not to get married. The very young don't

DEBATE AT G. U. H. S.

One of the interesting events for tonight is the debate between students of Glendale high and two other schools on the question: "Resolved that the United States should introduce a system of responsible cabinet government. This question, which was selected by Dean Hunt of the University of Southern California, means that the President's cabinet should report to Congress."

The four members of Glendale's teams are Victor Colburn and Francis Read who will uphold the affirmative side of the question here at home in Glendale high and who will be opposed by representatives of Citrus Union. Kathleen Campbell and Tom McNary, who are primed with arguments on the negative side will go to Covina, and will probably be attended by quite a delegation from the school. Wednesday night Miss Freeman was still seeking a judge, candidates who can fulfill all the conditions being hard to find.

IN THE STILLNESS OF THE NIGHT

(By International News Service)

MARTIN'S FERRY, O., April 22.—

There had been a great increase in water consumption here in recent months.

Municipal authorities were puzzled. After weeks of probing, city officials believe they have located the cause.

They assert that many owners of illicit stills are operating with the aid of water from the city's mains.

The drain is especially heavy at night. Formerly it was possible for the waterworks pumping station to keep the reservoir full without difficulty.

It is said the owners of stills let the water run over the coils for cooling purposes from 10 to 12 hours at a time.

CAGED PATRIOTISM

(By International News Service)

CLEVELAND, April 22.—"At this time my duty to serve my country comes before my duty to the state!"

With these words, John W. Joyce, serving a 60-day sentence in the workhouse for violation of the Volstead law, replied to a summons to serve on a jury.

know their own minds and rush into disastrous marriages. They should be protected.

"But what good is it to the state or to any individual to keep two people together who want to be apart?"

"It's hypocrisy, nothing else!"

"Our laws are not for the strong, but for the weak. And woman should always be protected."

STUDIO NEWS AND GOSSIP

Betty Blythe, the Queen of Sheba in the Fox production of that title, is in New York to witness the premiere of the picture. Hollywood gossips say that the enterprising Fox, who has had one or more glimpses of the film, has offered Betty a fat contract, but Betty has said nay more than once, preferring to withhold her decision until she has had an opportunity to see for herself just how strongly she has scored. This, of course, means that Betty is reserving to herself the right to fix the figures that the contract will carry. It is possible that while in New York and during the run of the picture Betty will make a personal appearance. She is prepared in the way of costumes. She wears 19 in the picture. One, a bead, she carried in her purse. The others were forwarded to New York by registered mail.

Eric Von Stroheim, the Bold

Eric Von Stroheim, "the man who has capitalized hate," is still keeping things in a whirl at the Universal studio near this city. Just when he will complete his "Foolish Wives" is not known to the studio officials, but they are praying to Allah for light. "Foolish Wives" already has cost more than one million real dollars. Night after night several thousands of more dollars are expended. Extras to the number of hundreds assemble early. About midnight Von Stroheim begins work. One or two scenes are shot and at about 4 a. m. the actors and extras are dismissed until the following night. The Monte Carlo set is said to be the most costly ever erected on a studio lot for picture purposes.

Nobody knows anything about the picture schedule but Von Stroheim. His brain evolved the story, he wrote the continuity, he is portraying the central character and he is the directing genius. The last scenes of the picture he shot first. It has been about a year in the making, and it is problematical when it will be released, for many of the scenes are said to be of the risqué brand just the kind censors with blue glasses like to pounce upon and shear to the bone. Von Stroheim, however, will not be given the task of editing and cutting the film. This job, it is understood, has been entrusted to Frank Lawrence, for whom miles of film have no terrors and whose trusty shears have never been known to fail in the performance of an important duty. All Hollywood is wondering as to the outcome. Meantime, Von Stroheim is having the time of his cinema career, for he is the master of the situation and is believed to be responsible for the constant iteration of the time-worn phrase: "The motion picture industry still is in its infancy," by Carl Laemmle, Universal's big chief.

Who'll Play Peter Pan?

Who is going to portray the character of Peter Pan on the Paramount screen? Is the question that is often heard on the highways and byways of movieland. It has been rumored that the studio officials have decided that Betty Compson is best fitted to enact the role of the whimsical and charming heroine of Barrie's famous play. Ann Forrest is also frequently mentioned for the coveted honor, with dainty Colleen Moore a close third. It is a fact that few in number are the screen actresses who do not believe they were born for the part. It is the all-absorbing topic for personal gossip in the motion picture capital of the world. The result is the official announcement concerning the role is awaited with almost as much interest as the receipt of the weekly paycheck by the cinema "make believes."

Troubles of Independents

Independent producers are still finding the financial row exceedingly hard to hoe. Only a few are operating and the greater part of these are laboring under difficulties. Press agents are working overtime in futile efforts to put publicity over, but their hearts are not in their work and one by one they are falling from the ranks. Scores of players who have enjoyed the thrills of stardom are now glad to play unimportant roles in the hope that soon their old-time popularity will again open the gates of film fame to them, and not a few who are now heralded as stars of the first water are wondering where their next contract will come from. Of course, Goldwyn's, Lasky's and Universal are veritable hives of industry, picture making being a real business with them. They have just so many pictures to produce within a given time for an always ready market, ample capital with which to operate and a clientele that comprises almost every fan in the civilized world. But it is different with some of the independents. They constantly are seeking a market for their output and, therefore, are at the mercy of agencies whose master minds are experts in the art of fleecing the already well-shorn lamb. And no one in cinema land "knows what a day may bring forth."

Lewis S. Stone, finished actor, both on stage and screen, has been engaged by Col. William Selig and Sam Rork to head featured casts in four productions. "The Rosary" will be the first of their special productions. The others will be the classic "Debonaire," by William Farquhar Payson; "The Royal Box," Charles Coghlan's famous play, and James Oliver Curwood's thrilling story, "The Honor of the Big Snows." No expense is to be spared, say these producers, in making the pictures the very best possible. They will equal, from production and other viewpoints, other famous Selig films like "The Spoilers" and "The Garden of Allah."

Bebe Daniels in Jail

Bebe Daniels, Realart star, is now sojourning in the Orange County jail. Arrested for speeding, a jury found her guilty and a hard-boiled justice sentenced her to 10 days in jail. The case was appealed and pending a decision Miss Daniels fretted and worried so that she decided to accept the verdict of the jury as final and forthwith proceeded to serve her time. Last Friday night at 11 o'clock she entered the jail, after a farewell dinner to friends in Los Angeles, and for the first time in her real and screen life, slept on a canvas couch. The next day friends supplied her with adequate furniture, decorated her cell with flowers and have been constant in their attentions ever since.

Anita Stewart Loses Jewels

Anita Stewart is mourning the loss of jewelry valued at $20,000. The articles were taken from her dresser in her Los Angeles home while she was at work in the Louis B. Mayer studio. The thief, posing as an electrician who had been instructed to repair a defective light, had gained admittance to the house in broad daylight and was ushered to Miss Stewart's room by her butler, who was then requested by the visitor to bring him a step ladder. During the absence of the butler the theft was committed. Miss Stewart has offered a reward for the arrest and conviction of the thief and the return of her jewels.

Vitagraph Stars Wed

He had rescued her from fire and flood, from sudden death and slow demise by torture, but by taking out a marriage license a little ahead of the time they had planned, William Duncan, Vitagraph serial king, last Friday rescued his bride-to-be, Edith Johnston, his leading woman on the screen, from a worse tragedy than any he had previously faced—that of being branded 10 years older than she is. It all happened because another William Duncan and Edith Johnson obtained a marriage license, with the bride's age given as 34 years. When her friends telephoned her, congratulating her and not forgetting to mention the 34 years, the film beauty called on her fiancé to aid her in establishing her correct age, 24 years. He said the only way to do it was to take out a license themselves. And so they were married.

Screen Loses Vivian Martin

Vivian Martin, according to advices received in Los Angeles, has retired from the screen to resume her stage career. She will be recalled in the leading feminine role in "Stop Thief," "Officer 666" and "The Only Son." She has been a motion picture star for the past four years. Her first stage vehicle will be a new three-act comedy entitled "First Night Out," by Adelaide Matthews and Ann Nichols, authors of "Nightly Night" and "Scrambled Wives." Miss Martin was for more than three years a screen star with Famous Players-Lasky, appearing in such photoplays as "The Third Kiss," "Her Official Fiance," "The Innocent Adventuress," and "Louisiana."

SOCIAL FAREWELL PARTY FOR MEMBER

The Ladies' Aid of the Tropico Presbyterian church gave a social farewell party Tuesday afternoon for one of their most beloved members, Mrs. Rebecca Dickson, who was leaving for Beaumont, Calif., to reside. Mrs. Dickson was presented with a delicious cake, made by one of the members. Refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon. Mrs. Dickson has been a faithful worker in church and the Ladies' Aid and will be greatly missed.

POEM

A pretty deer is dear to me,
A hare with downy hair;
A hart I love with all my heart,
But barely bear a bear.

'Tis plain that no one takes a plane
With which to operate and a clientele
That comprises almost every fan in the civilized world. But it is different with some of the independents. They constantly are seeking a market for their output and, therefore, are at the mercy of agencies whose master minds are experts in the art of fleecing the already well-shorn lamb. And no one in cinema land "knows what a day may bring forth."

A scribe in writing right may write,
May write and still be wrong;
For write and rite are neither right,
And don't to right belong.

People have time to listen to stories of success, but they have failures of their own.

AMERICAN WOMEN IN ENGLISH COLLEGES

(By International News Service)

LONDON, April 22.—A remarkable feature of next term at English universities will be the number of women students from abroad, and residents in university towns are now continuously receiving requests to take in foreign guests.

Ever since the war great numbers of women from Scandinavia have attended lectures at Oxford.

They will soon be outnumbered by women students from the United States who are anxious to enjoy the atmosphere of the older universities.

There is no room in the residential colleges, which are refusing up to 50 per cent of the applicants, and most of these intellectual and already learned women do not desire a full three-years' course.

So they become home students and their quality is so high and their zeal so great that it is becoming the duty of the universities to cater to them by special lectures.

They are immensely popular, with their hosts as well as their fellow students. "Their influence," said a woman lecturer at Oxford, "is of the best possible sort. They widen our outlook and vitalize our intellectual life."

"The United States women students at present here," said Dr. MacLean, of the American University Union, "are taking, chiefly, courses in history, literature, economics and social science. Of those subjects which can be studied better in England than in America, history is one, because of the archives, shrines, records, art treasures and libraries which the older countries possess."

"A certain amount of exchange of students is taking place; some British girls hold traveling scholarships tenable at American universities."

THE FATAL METAPHOR

The young man was telling his sweetheart how he has been attracted to her.

"You were a lovely flower and I was a bee," he explained to her. "I was a mouse and you were a piece of cheese."

And then wondered why she rose and left the room.—American Legion Weekly.

AND THEN SHE WOKE UP

(By International News Service)

DENVER, April 22.—Nemo, the famed sleeper of childlore, has been put to shame by Oma Beverley Nemo, pretty Denver miss.

Miss Oma won an annulment of her marriage to Ray William Langford when she testified she had wedded Langford while "fast asleep."

She told the court she had taken an auto ride with Langford during which he proposed. She refused him. Later on the ride she became cold and accepted a few drinks of whisky as "medicine." When she "came to," she said she found she had been married to Langford.

IN THE OFFING

(By International News Service)

NORTH ADAMS, Mass., April 22.—A child born three weeks ago is made one of the plaintiffs in a divorce case entered in the local court against Doming Jammello. The case against Jammello has been before the court for some time, and the new child, who was born March 8, has now been added to one of the children the complaint alleges he failed to support.

A few weeks from now one won't know which to hate more, the landlord or the umpire.

James Sherwood as pirate of the Spanish main dressed in tattered silk, the loot of ancient voyages; Edward Stockbridge as cowboy with revolver in his belt and impressive leathern chaps.

This afternoon the new girls' gym will be christened for joy and good fellowship with a dance. It will be appropriately decorated with the school colors and with flowers, and there will be one booth at which punch and ice cream will be dispensed over which Garnet Peters will preside.

The boys' gym will contain many booths. Here Virginia Huntley and Mildred Stanford will sell candy; Lucy Strothers, notions; Mildred Cole, ice cream and cake; Louise Wimmer and Viola Johnson, punch; Paul Hollano will have a ping-pong booth, and Bebe Haskins a fortune-telling booth.

Each booth will be different from every other and the girls are exercising their wits to deck their places of trade as attractively as possible with flowers and other accoutrements.

Music for the dance is being furnished by home talent, viz.: Warren Meeker, saxophone; Bill Tessler, drum; Jim Hill, banjo; Ralph Van Hooserbeke, piano. The dance is to be on from 2 to 6.
